

Outstanding 4-H club members of Hempstead county will be honored with a banquet by the county managers at 7:30 tonight (Wednesday) and on Thursday night Hope Chamber of Commerce will entertain the winners of the Balanced Farming Competition and other farm guests with a dinner and speaking program headed by Clarence F. Byrns, editor of the Fort Smith Southwest American.

These are two annual tributes from town folk to the farm community — and the open-to-all banquet for the Balanced Farming competitors Thursday night is the major city-farm meeting of the year.

Every business and professional man and woman owes it to the community to attend Thursday night's dinner. These are times of rapid economic change, and what's going on in the farmer's world is of prime interest to the business houses that trade with him every day.

Get your tickets from the Chamber of Commerce offices today and attend Thursday night's banquet at 6:30 in the high school cafeteria.

A late news flash in today's edition tells us that John L. Lewis has suddenly broken the coal miners' strike, ordering the men back to work "at least until the end of November."

But it may well be that this is the permanent end of the current coal strike. There are signs that tell us this so.

Earlier this week the United States Supreme Court ruled that Lewis and the United Mine Workers union must pay the million-dollar fine levied against them by a government anti-strike injunction issued under the Taft-Hartley law in a previous mine shutdown.

The situation today is that unless Lewis voluntarily ordered the miners to return to work the government, with winter coming on, must resort to force — and the only avenue of force is through an injunction. This would compel President Truman to use the very law he has been denouncing — the Taft-Hartley measure.

Under the circumstances you can see why Lewis ordered the men back to work. Not to do so would have forced the government to use the very law that labor bigwigs are trying to repeal.

And yet — what more powerful argument is there for the Taft-Hartley law than this? The experience we have had with the coal industry? Men can not live through winter without fuel; and when either management or labor gets so completely organized that one or the other can paralyze the entire nation then it is the nature of a general strike — which is revolution.

And for revolution every stable and respectable government has a quick answer.

Lehman Takes Senate Seat From Dulles

Good Omen for Fair Deal Plan Says Truman

By The Associated Press

Republicans didn't find much to crow about in yesterday's off-year elections. They held on to the New Jersey governorship they already had and tossed out a Democratic mayor here and there.

But they took a mauling in the day's feature political bout in New York state. Democrat Herbert L. Lehman easily knocked Republican John Foster Dulles out of the U. S. Senate. Dulles has held down since last June.

There was one big, clear-cut issue: Lehman campaigned hard for the Truman home-front program; Dulles campaigned hard against it.

The President himself, gleefully about to return at a dinner in his honor by the Women's Democratic club of Washington, interpreted the result as a vote of confidence in his "fair deal."

Mr. Truman said it would have a very decided effect on the election in 1950 when control of congress is at stake. So did the Democratic national chairman, William M. Boyle, Jr.

Furthermore, Boyle said Lehman's victory "was only the high-light of a national trend" that won again over Republican "generalities" and "scarce attacks." Part of that "trend" was a repeat win for "Dewey" of New York.

The G. O. P. national chairman, Guy George Gabrielson, said in a statement that "the principles which Senator Dulles expounded in his campaign are those which ultimately will prevail, because they are."

And Senator Brewster (R-Me), chairman of the senate Republican campaign committee, belittled Democratic rejoicing over keeping a senate seat they have held 22 years.

"Their precarious control of the senate," he said at a home at Dexter, Mo., "depends upon six seats far more doubtful than the one they have retained in New York, and a good professional has beaten a good amateur."

In New Jersey, Gabrielson said, the reelection of Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll was a blow at "bossism" and "haguelism."

Driscoll had a direct defeat to his Democratic rival, State Senator Elmer H. Wene. And he gave an indirect drubbing to Frank Hague, the former Jersey City mayor and boss of the state Democratic organization who backed Wene.

Hague announced he is "stepping aside." At 73, he said, he has reached an age when it is impossible to "carry on the arduous duties" of the Democratic leadership.

Boston voters tossed out the last old-time boss still in power when they refused a fifth term to Democratic Mayor James M. Curley. They picked another Democrat, City Clerk John B. Hynes.

Approximately a fourth of the 4,000,000 votes cast had been tabulated unofficially.

From all sides came charges of fraud, bribery and vote fraud in the election.

Man Held for Slaying Tells of 2 Others

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 9 — (AP) — County Attorney Julian Alexander says Houston Roberts, charged with the poison death of his granddaughter, has admitted he poisoned his first two wives for their insurance.

Alexander said the 42-year-old dairy handsman admitted yesterday that he gave his first two wives strychnine.

The prosecutor said no charges had been filed in the deaths of the wives.

Roberts is charged with murder in the death last July 16 of his granddaughter, Mary Louise Hill, five years old. He is also charged with attempted murder in the poisoning of his sister, Mrs. Ruby Pace, 43-year-old.

Roberts recovered from what hospital authorities said was arsenic poisoning.

Police Chief Joel Holden said Roberts told him earlier that he gained control of $600 of a $630 insurance policy paid at Mary Louise's death and that he had hoped to obtain part of a $1,400 policy carried over her sister.

Mrs. Ruby Pace, 43-year-old mother of seven, has been charged with murder in Mary Louise's death and with attempted murder in the poisoning of her sister, Mrs. Pace.

Mrs. Pace has denied she had anything to do with either case.

Gallup Not Eating Crow Any Longer

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Dr. George Gallup of the Gallup poll said he was eating pheasant today a welcome change from his year-long diet of crow.

His poll forecast the U. S. senate victory of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in yesterday's New York state election.

Gallup's figures were not as close as those he had been in the past, but he picked the right man.

Gallup gave Lehman 57 per cent of the vote, and his Republican opponent, Sen. John Foster Dulles, 43 per cent.

Almost complete returns from the actual balloting showed Lehman winning with 52 per cent over Dulles with 48 per cent.

Gallup was badly off on the size of Lehman's Democratic-Liberal majority, however.

Gallup gave him more than the 350,000 claimed by Democrats, but he was off on the actual figures with only a few election districts missing.

Lehman with only a 208,000 vote lead from a total vote of almost 5,000,000.

Nevertheless Gallup was jubilant.

"I feel that I can now quit eating crow and try a little pheasant for a change," he said.

Fulbright Delighted That Labor Act Not Repealed

Little Rock, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Senator J. William Fulbright said he was delighted that the Taft-Hartley labor act was not repealed.

Explaining his opposition to repeal in an address before the Arkansas Wood Products association here yesterday, Fulbright said:

"Some balance between the great organizations of the nation is needed, x x x some measure is needed to prevent one man from imposing his will on the nation when results affect the entire economy."

He mentioned John L. Lewis, whose United Mine Workers are on strike.

The Arkansas Federation of Labor announced it will support a candidate against Fulbright in next year's elections because he opposed repeal of the act.

The senator said he had "no apologies" for his vote.

Times Square Tradition Apparently Gone

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Times Square, in years past a noisy mass of cheering celebrants on election night, was just another spot on Broadway last night.

The 700 police assigned to keep order in the area, which had seen crowds of more than a million for other elections, estimated last night's quiet gathering at 4,000.

Said an old-timer around Times Square:

"The death of a tradition."

Offers $5000 to Anyone Who Can Beat Him Playing the New Pasteboard Epidemic—Canasta

By HAL BOYLE
New York, (AP) — Oswald Jacoby, the beat-like man who has won fame by holding hands.

Not lady hands—card hands. Right now Ossie is looking for somebody to give $5,000 to. Anybody that is anybody who can beat him at the new pasteboard epidemic—canasta.

Some nine months ago he spent a dozen hours playing his pastime and decided he knew enough about it to write a book. He did. And his "How To Win At Canasta" has sold over 300,000 copies.

But a number of other people also wrote books on canasta. After reading their books — and rereading his book — Jacoby decided he was the best canasta player in the world.

"I'm willing to pay $5,000 to anyone who can beat me," he announced. "There may be a couple of unknown guys in Oshkosh who can do it, but I doubt it. And I'm sure there is no other canasta author able to not if they play the way they write."

He has reason for self-confidence. This 46-year-old, grizzled, gray, 6-foot-two-inch Texan vygk, fine mathematician. He began playing bridge at the age of 7.

Since 1930 he has won the Vanderbilt cup, the Kentucky derby of tournament bridge, six times.

Precozity runs in his tribe. "My father entered college at 14, I entered at 15 and my son at 16," he said, smiling. "I guess the family is getting out."

"He quit Columbia university at 19 to become the nation's youngest life insurance actuary."

"And I'm still a consulting actuary," he said. "I'm not in cards for a business."

But they are a nice, good-paying hobby.

Jacoby says there is no card game that can be played perfectly and that if someone invented a machine that could "do" a good player could beat it because he could predict what the machine

Local Dealer Has Blanks for K-F Contest

Luck Motor Co., Hope, Arkansas, today announced receipt of entry blanks in a $200,000 nationwide contest to name the new low-priced automobile to be introduced by Kaiser-Frazer Corp. in 1950.

First prize is $100,000 with 1,023 additional cash prizes. Kaiser-Frazer will match the "Name-the-Car" prize money dollar-for-dollar in a contribution to the Danbury Runyon Memorial Cancer Fund in honor of each individual winner, according to H. E. Luck, head of the Luck dealership.

An additional feature of the contest is the fact that the prize money for each winner will be doubled if he has his present car appraised when he obtains his entry blank. Contestants need only write their name suggestion on the entry blank and explain in 25 words or less the reason for the selection.

"I want the American people to name this new car," Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the board of K-F said in announcing the contest. "It is a car for all America. It will be a companion to the other Kaiser and Frazer cars we are now producing, completing the full line in every price range."

It will be a standard-size model seating five passengers and will give its owner the lowest maintenance and operating costs of any standard automobile on the road, Mr. Kaiser said.

Contest judges, in addition to Mr. Kaiser, include Walter Winchell, columnist and radio commentator who is treasurer of the Runyon Cancer Fund, and Columnists Leonard Lyons and Dan Parker, officers of the fund.

"The best poker player I ever saw was a little hunchbacked fellow in Memphis. I forget his name — but I never saw anyone play better."

KF to Get RFC Loan; Fulbright in Protest

Washington, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Henry J. Kaiser seemed sure today of getting a new loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) to start making a new low-cost car. The assurance came with RFC rejection of a suggestion by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) that it delay action.

The flow of actual cash to carry out a $44,400,000 loan arrangement set up conditionally a month ago by the reconstruction finance corporation appeared ready to start after:

1. RFC turned down Fulbright's request that it hold up "final action" on the loan, RFC Chairman Harley Hise yesterday wired Fulbright at Little Rock that "final action" already had been taken — and quite lawfully, Fulbright said afterward he would seek a congressional investigation of RFC lending policies.

2. Kaiser said at Houston that he has now met the main conditions for drawing the loan funds. He said that in fact, he was all set to "obtain the first money" under the credit when Fulbright filed his delay plea Monday.

In a statement given the press at Houston and Washington yesterday, Kaiser also charged existence of a "plot" to stop Kaiser-Frazer (the auto concern) from producing the low-priced car.

Declaring that Senator Fulbright's slowdown move was timed precisely when Kaiser-Frazer was to obtain the first money under the RFC loan, Kaiser said:

The plotters know that every day for rushing tools and dies and getting into production of new models is invaluable in the highly competitive auto industry.

To qualify for the cash, he announced, the Kaiser interests deposited securities with a market value of $10,000,000 as the collateral under a $15,000,000 guarantee by the Kaiser-Frazer bank to back up the RFC loan.

That, he stressed, had been done the very day — Monday — when Fulbright asked RFC to hold up action until a senate banking committee report could check into the transaction.

Kaiser added hotly: "Stool pigeons or unwitting stooges for the interests that want to stop the Kaiser-Frazer challenge to the big 3's (General Motors, Ford, Chrysler) lowest-priced cars won't stop us!"

The new car is planned for next year. Fulbright said the talk of plotting is ridiculous. He said he did not even know any of the manufacturers.

Kaiser, he said, is just talking out of his hat.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind) got in a word at Indianapolis. Capehart said he was in full accord with Fulbright's contention that RFC should not make loans to big business" which can get money from private sources, and that the RFC loan is beyond ordinary objectives of the RFC act."

But Chairman Hise of RFC saw it otherwise. In advising Fulbright that prior approval of the loan by the RFC's fiscal director, Mr. Hise made it impossible to grant a delay request now, he added:

The board of directors is convinced that the loan's approval is in complete accord with provisions of the RFC act and in furtherance of its objectives.

Fulbright told questioners he knew of nothing he could do under present law if RFC went through with the loan, but that he would seek a change in law after congress opens another session in January.

Little Rock, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) charged today that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's lending policy was a threat to private business. The senator said the RFC is just Continued on Page Two

Lewis Orders Coal Miners Back to Jobs

Miami Police Pass Findings of Grand Jury

Miami, Fla., Nov. 9 — (UP) — Miami law enforcement officers today either shrugged their shoulders or passed the buck on a grand jury report which said that this winter tourist center has become headquarters for the nation's leading criminals.

Sheriff (Smiling) Jimmy Sullivan, often under attack by local newspapers, had nothing at all to say on the jury's warning that "criminals of national stature" are settling in Miami and hiding under a "cloak of respectability" by purchasing legitimate business concerns.

Police Chief Walter Headley, however, had a comment on the jury's charge that Miami's $100,000,000 illegal gambling industry is operating "openly under the eyes of the police." But it was a brief one.

"The last three grand juries praised us (the city police), so I guess we've got a 500 batting average," said Headley.

The jury report got a cold reception top from Ernest Duhaime, assistant United States district attorney, when it appeared to the federal government to step in and investigate gangsters and racketeers here beyond the scope of local law enforcement agencies.

"It would seem," said Duhaime, "the grand jury has a wrong conception of the jurisdictional questions involved in calling on the federal government for aid in clearing up a local problem."

As for this state attorney, Glenn C. Mivef, and County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor, they were hotly denying grand jury charges that they had failed to prosecute certain cases by passing the buck from one office to another.

Said Taylor on gambling: "I am not a detective and it is not my responsibility to run down offenses against the law. My duty is to prosecute."

The only apparent official or semi-official approval of the grand jury report came from Col. Jack Younger, president of the greater Miami Crime commission, who said the jury had put its finger on the basic problems of law enforcement."

Negro Communist Loses Office in New York

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — The Communist party has lost its only major public office in the United States.

Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Negro member of the New York City council, lost his reelection fight yesterday to Earl Browder, Negro magazine writer. Brown was backed by a Democratic-Republican-Liberal coalition. He polled 63,030 votes to Davis' 21,962.

Davis is one of the 11 communist leaders convicted of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the U. S. government in the recent conspiracy trial. Sentenced to five years in prison, he is free in bail pending appeal.

"To the end that you work for democracy, peace and security of the people, you can count on my support," Davis telegraphed the victor.

A Republican, he ran without opposition. The Democrats gave up years ago.

Decides to Let Them Work Until November 30

By NORMAN WALKER
Washington, Nov. 9 — (AP) — John L. Lewis suddenly called off the coal strike today, restoring a fair measure of labor peace to the nation.

He left the threat of a possible new walkout at the end of this month. But his back-to-work order, coming just as the still-continuing piecemeal ending of the steel strike, stirred hopes of government officials that the "country is settling back into a period of high-level industrial activity."

Plotting Wife Only Wants to Go Home

Port Orchard, Wash., Nov. 9.—(AP)—A week in jail has convinced Mrs. Margaret Platt today that her husband's 15 years of night life making wasn't so bad after all.

Following a visit to the Kitsap county jail, her lanky husband said she could stay with him if she could make a living.

The 37-year-old mother of two children permits hiring two men to help her too-ardent husband in his new life.

He has refused her a divorce. I couldn't stand it any more," she said, explaining her murder plot.

"I had wanted to come home about a year ago," she said, "but I was afraid."

Mrs. Platt awaited arraignment Monday, when her attorney will claim that no overt act was committed, therefore she cannot be charged for attempted murder.

However, the state's James Munro, contends solicitation to commit murder is the same as attempted murder.

The two men Mrs. Platt says paid more than $1,500 to have Willard killed were on $2,000 bail each today.

The killers, Hollis D. Scott, 24, and Wally Mottern, 2, are charged with grand larceny by embezzlement.

Despite his weeklong nationwide publicity, Willard today said he has not received a single phone call, letter or telegram proposing marriage.

"And the only thing that would impress me," he said, "would be a letter enclosing my wife's $7,500 bail. I'm strictly a one-woman man."

Clyde M. Reed, 3-Career Man, Succumbs

Parsons, Kas., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Republican Senator Clyde M. Reed was killed by a heart attack today after a long illness.

Reed, 54, was a three-time member of the United States senate in 1908 and reelected in 1914. His term was scheduled to expire Jan. 3, 1951.

His death trimmed the number of Senate Republicans temporarily to 42, leaving the balance probably will be named to succeed him.

Kansas Governor Frank Carlson, who will make the appointment, also is a Republican.

When the senate returns in January, there probably will be 54 Democrats and 42 GOP members, assuming Carlson appoints a Republican and a Democrat is named to succeed Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.). Baldwin plans to retire after December.

Reed spent 25 years in the railway mail service, before entering newspaper work and politics. He began as a clerk. When he quit to manage and publish the Parsons Star, a daily newspaper, he was superintendent of the railway adjustment division.

In the senate Reed, a white-haired husky man, was considered an expert on transportation matters. He was a strong member of the interstate commerce committee and an appropriations committee member.

Rail rates and farm legislation gained a major share of his attention. He also was a strong advocate to the bipartisan foreign policy.

Reed had a stormy career in Kansas politics. He first entered public life in 1919 as private secretary to Governor Allen. He served as Kansas governor from 1929 to 1931. He lost the Republican nomination for a second term.

Reed was publisher of the Parsons Sun at the time of his death. His son, Clyde Reed, Jr., is manager.

He was the senior senator from Kansas. A native of F. Schoepel, elected last year, is the other Sunflower state senator.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Funeral Today for N. L. R. Candy Dealer

North Little Rock, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Funeral services were planned here today for Clem R. Kohler, 50, prominent local candy manufacturer who died while on a fishing trip near Stuttgart late yesterday.

Kohler had been suffering for some time from a heart condition. He made the fishing trip with three companions, including Eddie Lopat of Little Rock, star pitcher for the New York Yankees baseball team.

The four men had finished their fishing and were headed back to town in Kohler's car when he complained of a pain in his chest. He was dead upon arrival at a doctor's office in Stuttgart.

Civil Divorces Not Recognized by Catholics

Rome, Italy, Nov. 7.—(UP)—Pope Pius XII told Roman Catholic judges yesterday that they must not grant civil divorces for marriages recognized by the church.

Each civil decree, he said, leads to the erroneous impression that the marriages are dissolved. In the eyes of the church, they are not.

He said issued guidance to Catholic priests all over the world in a 4,500 word speech to delegates of the first national congress of the Italian jurists' union.

He said Catholic jurists are responsible morally for the sentence they pass and they should not administer unjust or immoral laws, especially those depriving citizens of their liberties.

In particular, the pope said, the Catholic jurist cannot pro-

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Ifagar Blair and Andrey Yakov are both trying to buy a valuable cameo which both Nell and Martin Falter claim to own. All are residents of Dolorosa, a western art colony. The cameo was last seen in the hands of Arnold Pfeiffer, who said Martin commissioned him to sell it. But Nell O'Neill, wife of wealthy Tom O'Neill, also claims to own it. Stephanie Smith, who works for Ifagar, says the cameo means a great deal to her and Ifagar with kindness in her old heart, she promised to buy it. As she gets into her car to go to see Martin Falter she discovers the cameo box in her machine. The box is open and empty.

The old iron-studded door of Bob's Place was a familiar and welcome sight to the bickering of Dolorosa. Bob claimed he had stolen it from a Spanish monastery in the Pyrenees during his voluntary militia service in Spain's civil war. The story of how he got it out of the Pyrenees and into California was a tale which became more astounding and dramatic with each retelling. He had lost his left arm in that adventure.

Bob was a writer of pseudo-scientific fiction during his leisure hours and though his volume of literary sales was small, his fantastic imagination was a source of amazement to friend and foe and editor.

Following Nell O'Neill's example, Andrey Yakov perched on a stool and leaned his elbows on a table, illuminated plate glass. Trochal Nell surveyed under a light at among coral and aquatic plants.

The man who proved to be the fabulous Bob bowed to Yakov and turned his gold-glittered smile on Nell.

"You're just in time, lovely lady. I think Papa wants to go home." He gestured toward the farthest booth. "Behold the weary traveler."

Nell and Yakov turned and looked. Tom's crisp white hair showed up clearly against the table top. One arm hung at his side and the other rested on the board.

"Kiss me, my Moscow Mule," Bob observed cheerily. "The what ginger beer and vodka will do."

Nell slid from her stool and walked over to the booth.

"Ginger beer and vodka?" asked Yakov. "At once? Together?"

He searched the amiable face in front of him. The man had sleepy-looking eyes of an indeterminate aquatic color and there was a faint creases, indicating either joviality or cunning from their corners. There was a round button of a nose, a surprisingly well-modeled mouth and a fleshy chin.

"Sure was answering his question: 'Sire, but ginger beer and vodka in a chilled copper mug and you have a Moscow Mule. Try one?'"

Yakov nodded. "It should be an experience."

Bob began his manipulations. "Coming right up."

While he waited for his drink, Yakov watched Nell awaken Tom. The white hatch finally bobbed up and the pink face turned toward her.

"Well," Tom said. "Well, so it's you. Come running back to your poor old fool of a husband, huh? Old fool of a husband, that's what I am. That's what you think I am. Isn't it?"

"Nell," Nell demanded, "where's Martin?"

"Where's Martin?" he mimicked. "How should I know where that blackguard is? Shall I tell you where he belongs?"

Andrey grinned at him and raised the cup Bob gave him in salute.

Tom slapped him on the back. "Good old Andreyvitch. Good old comradeski!"

Tom raised his newly filled cup for a toast. Yakov responded with "Long life!" and they both drank.

Yakov placed an arm across Tom's shoulders and Tom grinned at him delightedly.

"I am, my friend," Yakov said casually. "I am still most anxious to meet our fellow artist, Martin Falter."

O'Neill frowned. "He knows better than to stay in my company," he said. "I told him just what he could expect from Tom O'Neill unless he keeps out of my sight."

Tom waved a hand toward Bob who was leaning on his one good elbow not far away, openly listening to the conversation.

"Didn't I, Bob? You heard, me tell him off, didn't you?"

Bob shook his head amiably. "Not at all, lovely lady. He's not doing any harm over here. But if your Russian friend doesn't come back pretty soon, I'll trundle Tom into my little back room and let him sleep it off in there." He leaned against the bar and gazed up admiringly at Nell. "You know, that's the nice thing about the old boy, he usually knows when he's had a drop too much and then he let me suggest the back-room treatment. Most times, he just ambles in there on his own hook and nounce, if not for motives of great moment, a sentence of civil divorce for a matrimony valid before God and man."

He must not forget that such a sentence in practice does not touch only civil effects, but in reality leads rather to the erroneous consideration that the present bond is broken and the new is valid and obligatory.

The Roman Catholic church by historic precedent recognizes only marriages performed within the Catholic church. It does not recognize divorce in any form.

Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—President Truman, once again today the leader of a triumphant party, welcomed Tuesday's election results as an endorsement of his "fair deal" program and an omen of Democratic victory in 1950.

The President, jubilantly reading election returns to 400 cheering Democrats at a dinner last night, said the results in New York "will have a very decided effect on the elections in 1950." The people then will elect all members of the returns, also, a powerful stimulus on congress to enact the unfinished portion of his legislative program.

"The Democratic platform set out certain things which it is our duty to try to accomplish," he told the Women's National Democratic club of Washington.

"I want to say to you that the first session of the first congress did a remarkable job, and the second session of the first congress is going to do a better one as a result of these elections today."

The President was an irrefragable guest of honor. With every dinner course he bounced to his feet with a broad grin, rapped on the microphone for attention, and read the latest election returns. Each report raised new cheers and applause from the crowd of cabinet officers, party leaders and club members.

Fairly early in the vote-counting of New York's senatorial race Mr. Truman staked his fate as a political seer, a reputation won in his own stunning victory a year ago.

"Here's the latest in the Lehman-Dewey race," he said, winking. "And it will be a race when Lehman gets through with him."

The count then, as he reported it, was 317,007 for Republican incumbent John Foster Dulles and 283,007 for former Governor Herbert H. Lehman. A few minutes later he drew more cheers with an announcement that the New York Times and New Daily News, "both Dulles supporters," conceded to Lehman and (Mayor William) O'Dwyer.

He read returns indicating Democratic victories in mayor alty races in Syracuse, Binghamton and Geneva, N. Y., and in Louisville, Ky., and started his speech with the words: "It certainly is a most happy evening." He went on: "I am exceedingly happy, if the New York Times and New York Daily News are correct, that we have won a victory in New York which will have a very decided effect on the elections in 1950."

Smog Smacks Again at New Orleans

New Orleans, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Smog smacked New Orleans again today. After appearing Monday for the first time, the smoke-mingled fog lay heavy over suburban areas in the early morning hours, disrupting traffic and halting flight operations at Moisant International airport.

State police reported more than 200 vehicles stranded for a six-hour period from midnight to 6 a.m.

The smog, as before, was apparently caused by grass fire smoke being trapped by a dense fog.

Many Arkansas Cities to Get Hospital Aid

Little Rock, Nov. 9.—(AP)—First priority for federal hospital construction money available to Arkansas in 1951 probably will go to the proposed state medical center here.

Such priority was approved yesterday by the Arkansas Hospital Authority committee.

The committee also set up a formula under which Arkansas recipients of federal aid would put up $4 for every $6 of federal money.

Until recently local sources had put up $2 for $1.

Both actions of the committee are subject to approval by the state board of health at its meeting here today.

The advisory committee was advised that Arkansas will be able to get nearly $23,000,000 in federal aid by 1955. It listed these communities and hospitals as having applied for federal money under the new, liberalized matching plan:

Little Rock, St. Vincent's infirmary, 300 additional beds, estimated cost $5,289,750.

El Dorado, Warner-Brown hospital, 100 beds, $1,300,000.

Camden, 90 beds, $1,000,000.

Rison, 20 beds, $175,000.

Fordyce, 30 beds, $300,000.

Jonesboro, St. Bernard hospital, 80 beds, $600,000.

India's Religious Leader Gandhi Would Have Asked Clemency for His Slayers

By DeWITT MacKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One week from today the law of India is scheduled to exact the death penalty on the gallows from 20 Hindus for the assassination on January 30, 1948, of Mahatma Gandhi, one of the greatest spiritual leaders of all time.

If any one ought to be hanged, surely that fate should befall Nayayan V. Godse, whose hand held the pistol which fired the fatal shots, and his fellow conspirator Narayan B. Apte. Theirs was a crime which not only India but the world at large cannot forgive.

By all odds they should be punished. Still, as one who knew the saintly little Mahatma, I believe if he could make his wishes known he would ask that the sentences of death be commuted.

Indeed Gandhi rendered his personal verdict even as he died. He was walking across the lawn of his prayer meeting grounds in New Delhi, to attend a gathering of his followers, when the assassin struck.

As the 78 year old Mahatma sank under the impact of two or more bullets he raised his hand to Godse in the Hindu sign of forgiveness.

That is what would be expected from the man who once told me that his greatest inspiration had been Christ's Sermon on the Mount. This being the attitude of a life-long exponent of non-violence, one wonders whether the Indian government may yet intervene to prevent the hangings, and commute the sentences to imprisonment.

Should any move of this sort be made it would have to be initiated officially by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, who yesterday finished his lengthy visit in America and flew back to India. Nehru was Gandhi's devoted disciple and held the Mahatma in deepest reverence and love. Nehru once characterized Gandhi thus:

"He has changed the face of India, given pride and character to a cringing and demoralized people."

At a news conference following the private meeting, Fulbright said he is not questioning the soundness of the Kaiser-Frazer firm but he doesn't think it is proper to hand out public money to a private industry.

Election Next Year to Be True Test

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 9 —(AP)— In spite of the Democrats' enthusiasm over their victory in the New York senate election yesterday, the congressional elections of 1950 will tell better how the people feel about "fair deal," President Truman's "fair deal."

There are two ways of looking at the election results in New York where Democrat Herbert H. Lehman won the senate election over Republican John Foster Dulles.

1. That is was a victory for the "fair deal" program of Mr. Truman, since Lehman campaigned on that and backed most of the program all the way.

2. Or that the New York voters, who had previously elected Lehman to four terms as governor, liked him better than they did Dulles, whom they never had elected to anything.

Lehman was defeated three years ago when he ran for the senate against Irving Ives, a Republican. Ives was swept into office in 1946 when all over the country the tide was Republican, and Republicans, for the first time since 1932, won control of congress.

But in this off-year election there was no national struggle that would have influenced the voters to mark their ballots all Republican or all Democratic.

This time it was a cold-cut choice—(a) between Lehman and Dulles or (b) between the "fair deal" arguments of Lehman and the warnings against it uttered by Dulles.

At any rate, the voters ignored Dulles' last minute talk on the night before election, that the goal of the Democrats would mean state socialism and an end of life.

But exactly what the people want will show up a lot more clearly in the November elections of 1950 when they have to choose a whole new house of 435 representatives, and one-third of the 96 senators.

The Democrats now control both houses of congress. But the Republicans and southern Democrats, who balk at a lot of Mr. Truman's "fair deal" program, together outnumber the Democrats who might call themselves "fair dealers."

Between next January, when the present congress begins its final year's work, and next November, when the elections are held, the Truman Democrats and the Republicans will have a chance to make the "fair deal" issue pretty sharp.

If a big chunk of Mr. Truman's program is stifled in congress, the voters next November will be able to show whether they want "fair deal" congressmen or not.

That will be a bitter and better test than the Lehman-Dulles fight. As this was written at midnight last night, Lehman was running around 300,000 votes ahead of Dulles. This raises an interesting question about the 1948 presidential election in New York state.

Last year Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for president, won New York state from President Truman by about 61,000 votes.

But Hoyt Wallace, running for president on the Progressive party ticket, captured 509,000 votes. Democrats said at the time that if Wallace hadn't run, Truman would have carried New York, that a big share of the Wallace votes—if Wallace hadn't been running—would have gone to the Democrats, not the Republicans.

Dunaway Takes Oath

The oath was administered by Chief Justice Griffin Smith. Dunaway was appointed last week by Governor McMath to succeed Associate Justice Frank G. Smith, who resigned. Dunaway resigned as prosecuting attorney for Pulaski and Perry counties to accept the appointment.

DOROTHY DIX Common Delusion

Dear Miss Dix: Is an onlooker justified in trying to break up an engagement in which the girl is headed straight for disaster? The girl is attractive, a good cook, thrifty, sweet-tempered. Her fiancé is a petted son of a wealthy family who has never worked a day in his life, and calmly admits that he doesn't intend to until it is forced upon him. If she does anything that doesn't suit him, he calls her all kinds of names which she excuses on the ground that she likes masochism, all reason.

He constantly tries to get her to give him some of her small salary to use in getting on horses or numbers. Yet this girl confidently believes that on their wedding day he will change into a loving husband. She has no one to advise her. Should I take that office on myself?

ANSWER: A WOMAN FRIEND
It would be no use. A girl that is infatuated has taken leave of her senses and is blind to every fault the man possesses, and all reason.

Nobody on earth can explain why an otherwise intelligent woman can delude herself into believing that a man who has never earned a penny will change a son into a sober man or make a gambler abhor games of chance or turn an abusive sweetheart into a tender and considerate husband. But thousands upon thousands of women do stultify themselves this way and marry on this platform.

Doesn't Conceal Faults
It is very, very seldom that a man has either the subtlety or takes the trouble to deceive a girl about the kind of man he is. He doesn't bother to conceal his faults and his weaknesses from her. But the poor deluded creatures, knowing the men for what they are, go on and marry them believing with childlike faith that marriage throws some sort of conjure over a man that changes him from what he is into what he ought to be. And against this superstition all argument is in vain. Nothing but experience will teach the truth and then it is too late.

That is why people are so loath to interfere in a love affair, even when they feel it their duty to at least light a red lantern of warning that might apprise a girl or boy of the danger ahead.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have an adopted son who is now 7 whom we took when a tiny baby of 3 days old. He has grown into a fine, manly little fellow, trustworthy, truthful and very bright. His most characteristic is that if he is fooled or cheated by his playfellows he is through with them and will have nothing more to do with them. He does not forgive me for forgetting to tell him that he is not our own?

ANSWER: MR. and MRS. X
You are doing your self and the child a irreparable injury by not telling him that he is an adopted child. There is no possibility that he will not find out the truth and with his type of character he will never forgive you for having deceived him. It will make him turn against you and wipe out the memory of your devotion to him.

I am basing this opinion on the many, many letters that I get from boys and girls who have grown to manhood and womanhood believing themselves the children of their foster-parents, and who have suddenly discovered that they are adopted children. In virtually every case it seems to bring about a revulsion of feeling that turns the child's love to hate.

Why this should be so, I do not know. Perhaps it is a humiliation greater than a person can bear to know that he has no right even to his name or that his own parents were unworthy, or that he has suffered the things that others have by right—that he doesn't belong as a child that was born to a mother and father does.

Familiarize the child from the very beginning with the fact that you took him because you wanted him and that he is your son through love. If you let him feel that you do everything for him because of your affection for him, he will grow up grateful for your kindness and appreciation of it and will not turn upon you and rend you as he will if he finds out when he is grown that you have befooled him.

Dear Miss Dix: You say that what makes marriage a success is congeniality. What is a man to do when he learns that the most congenial girl he ever met is twelve years his senior?

ANSWER: Marry her.

Dorothy Dix cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Invested Too Much Says Bath House Operators

Hot Springs, Nov. 8 —(AP)— Operators of bath houses here say they have invested too much money to go out of business.

This was one of the arguments they presented yesterday in asking renewal of their 20-year contracts to use the thermal waters of the springs, which expire in 1950.

The appeal was made at a hearing conducted here by Rep. Peterson (D-Fla.), chairman of the public lands committee.

C. M. Callahan, president of the Hot Springs Bath House association, said the operators had spent "huge sums of money" building and improving their establishments because the government had said when the leases first were granted that they would be renewed.

Hot Springs May Get a New Bank

Hot Springs, Nov. 8 —(AP)— An effort is being made to organize a new bank here — the Hot Springs State Bank.

M. M. Hilton, Hot Springs furniture dealer, said an application for a charter would be filed with the state banking commission this week probably Wednesday. He said he would be president of the bank and that Hot Springs Mayor Floyd Housley would be chairman of the board of directors.

Listing 48 stockholders, Hilton reported the bank would incorporate with $125,000 capital and that a Little Rock attorney Paul E. Talley, would be the only director who is not a resident of Hot Springs.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1949
By King Features Syndicate.

New York, Nov. 8 — I have been admonished by some practical politicians to ignore the Marxian political parasite called Americans for Democratic Action on the theory that it thrives on publicity. However, when we discuss public life it is hardly said that we advertise it and there are other considerations which impel me to examine this dangerous importation from the chaos of Europe.

The national chairman of the A.D.A. is Hubert Humphrey, a freshman senator from Minnesota, and the national board includes a mixture of leftwing or Marxian Democrats and fellow-travelers of the communists. Its prospectus of platform says it is a non-communist organization. Humphrey, himself, in a recent speech under the appropriate auspices of the New York Herald Tribune, plumped for that omnibusism which all factions and fractions of the party favor.

But to Joseph Stalin, called "democracy." However, in the current New York campaign, A.D.A. endorsed Stanley M. Isaacs, a nominal Republican, who nevertheless has been associated with 69 front organizations, including 17 which have been branded subversive by the attorney general of the United States.

Typical names from the roster of national officers and members of the national board are Chester Bowles, who tasted totalitarianism as chief of the O.P.A. and liked the flavor; Herbert H. Lehman, Frank P. Graham, Melvin Douglas, Leon Henderson, David Dubinsky, and E. D. Roosevelt, Jr. They all tend toward the establishment of a one-party state and the elimination of the 48 states.

Although A.D.A. is frankly a parasite and a political solvent organized to cause the disintegration of the two big political parties and reduce our politics to continental European confusion, Humphrey nevertheless has the effrontery to say recently that "one of the traditional articles of our political faith has been our belief in the two-party system."

He argued for party responsibility in government, and of course, for the federal government to power in the national government. But Humphrey, himself, is a political chameleon or mongrel, a nominal Democrat who also runs on a farmer-labor ticket which catches the communist vote. And A.D.A. is a candidate for mayor in New York, a stooge named Newbold Morris, is on three tickets. Republican, Liberal and Fusion. Not very long ago, young Roosevelt ran for governor of New York, and was elected on the ticket of the Liberal party, which belongs to Dubinsky, the teacher of the Garment Workers' union, and an improvised thing called the Four Freedoms party. Roosevelt opposed and defeated the regular Democratic candidate but was accepted into the Democratic fold in congress by Speaker Sam Rayburn, who nevertheless practically read out of the Party several Southern Democrats who were elected on the party ticket but with Strom Thurmond on it instead of Truman.

It was Humphrey and his fellow conspirators who drove the Dixiecrats out of the White House in 1948, a desperate course in 1948 by showing down Truman's gullet the so-called civil rights program. Truman abhorred this and the 81st congress absolute refused to pass it. Now, Humphrey, who drove the Dixiecrats out of the White House, is party altogether on the ground that, because they don't consent to his concept of the Master State with total power in Washington, they aren't Democrats at all.

The prospectus of a kly says A.D.A. will not become a party of any political party but will latch onto either big party opportunistly as the candidates give promise of carrying out its program of Marxian state socialism. It took a licking in some local elections in Connecticut recently and there, again, Democrats, especially Catholics of Irish descent, are quitting the party or preparing themselves for the police-spiritual shock of quitting as a protest against the influx of pro-communist carpet-baggers brought into the industrial cities by the Bowles rogationization. Chester Bowles was elected governor by a tiny minority in 1948 but made millions in advertising before the last for power took him into politics and he might do better later on. He is campaigning now to cut down the voting power of the small towns and farm areas in the Legislature and the A.D.A.'s official program promises a "graduated state income tax."

The communist manifesto of Marx and Engels is the source of most of the A.D.A.'s basic proposals. In particular, it is unquestionably the source of the income tax proposal.

"The proletariat will use its political power to wrest by degrees the capital from the bourgeoisie," they wrote. "This cannot be done except by despotic inroads on the rights of property. In the most advanced countries, the following will be pretty generally applicable: the nationalization of property in land and application of all rents of land to public purposes."

"2.—A heavy progressive or graduated income tax."

The confiscation of land, including houses is approaching through more and more audacious local taxes, often on the pretext that the school system is decrepit and must be modernized by bond issues. Only property-owners pay the interest and retire the principle of these bond issues so the renters and landless majority are indifferent.

It is noted that the A.D.A. lifts bodily from the communist manifesto the term "graduated income tax."

The most important lesson to be learned about A.D.A. at present is the fact of its parasitic purpose to sap the strength of the two parties and reduce them to scattered confusion. If it is a parasite, it is about the two-party system and the A.D.A.'s desire for big party responsibility are camouflage for the true purpose of creating here the same chaos which developed in Europe. The A.D.A.'s New York branch is neither the Democratic nor the Republican party but Dubinsky's private party, the political arm of the garment workers union. This also is footloose and plays the field. But, with 300,000 votes in the city and about 400,000 in city and state, Dubinsky is so strong that even Truman bow-tows to him even while he reads out of the party Southern Democrats who took a stand against the master state.

Rockefeller Center in New York has a sunken plaza that in summer is an open air restaurant and in winter is a skating rink.

PB Baseball Club to Change Its Name

Fine Bluff, Mo. 9. — (AP) — This city's Cotton States League baseball team won't be called "Cardinals" any more.

Why? The club's working agreement with the St. Louis Browns has been strengthened and the old monicker just doesn't seem to fit into that picture.

So the Pine Bluff stockholders last night voted to junk "Cardinals" and to conduct a contest in which fans will select a new nickname.

Four Unbeaten

Little Rock, Nov. 9. — (AP) — Just four of Arkansas 140 or more high school football teams remain undefeated and untied.

They are Stuttgart, Class A, with nine victories; Waldron, Class A, with eight; and Peachantons and Wilson, Class B, eleven which have won seven each.

An average New York skyscraper will team with thousands of workers in the daytime and be almost as silent as a tomb at night.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Nov. 9. — (AP) — Lou Little, who can explain almost everything, has his own explanation of the high scoring in football this season. . . It's simply that a coach, in picking his two platoons, puts the fastest and best co-ordinated men on the offensive team. . . "If you make one little mistake you're gone for a touchdown," Lou explains. . . Little has watched the best offensive efforts of a lot of good teams while they were running over his Columbia team this fall. . . From that viewpoint, his analysis of two of this week's top eastern games is this: Dartmouth vs. Cornell — with a few breaks for Dartmouth — should be pretty even; Army is stronger and has a better team than Penn, but that doesn't mean Army will win.

Out of Plat-Tune

When Washington and Lee was playing George Washington recently, the General (that's W&L) drove 80 yards downfield, only to lose the ball on a fumble near the goal line. . . Immediately Coach George Barclay sent his defensive unit racing into the field while the offensive players were still straggled off. . . An untitled spectacular behind the W&L bench then sang out: "That seems downright unfair of the coach. The team marches all the way up the field and then the defensive players make one little mistake, he takes them all out of the ball game."

Pigskin Pickings

Columbia vs. Navy.
If victory is part of Columbia's fate, it will come to little much too late.

Oklahoma vs. Missouri.
Oklahoma and Darrell Royal will cause Missouri's Blood to boil.

Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh.
Pittsburgh's Panthers. Ain't got the answers.

California vs. Oregon.
California will make a score.

When it digs down in the mines for ore.

Wyoming vs. Baylor.
Wyoming will find only hexes.

Rupp Believes Bradley Will Have Top Cage Team

Chicago, Nov. 9. — (AP) — Bradley University of Peoria, Ill., will be the nation's No. 1 basketball team this season, at least, predicts Adolph Rupp, coach of Kentucky's N. C. A. A. champions.

Rupp listed Bradley on top in a run down of the first five choices at a Chicago Basketball Writers' association meeting last night.

He grouped the other four, not especially in order, as Bowling Green of Ohio, Tulane, Loyola of Chicago and San Francisco.

Bradley, with a 27-3 regular season record last campaign, lost to Bowling Green in a third place playoff in the metropolitan invitational tournament in New York City. Rupp said Bradley will have its team virtually intact.

"Kentucky is starting from scratch and will be green," he said. "But we'll make a good showing."

Antonelli's baseball career began at Memphis back in 1935. He went to Lexington, Ky., the following year as manager.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1949
By King Features Syndicate.

New York, Nov. 8 — I have been admonished by some practical politicians to ignore the Marxian political parasite called Americans for Democratic Action on the theory that it thrives on publicity.
However, when we discuss polio
it can hardly be said that we advertise it and there are other considerations which impel me to examine this dangerous importation
from the chaos of Europe.

The national chairman of the
A. D. A. is Hubert Humphrey, a freshman senator from Minnesota, and the national board includes a mixture of leftwing or Marxian Democrats and fellow-travelers of the communists. Its prospectus or platform says it is a non-communist organization and Humphrey himself, in a recent speech under the appropriate auspices of the New York Herald Tribune, plumped for that omnibusism which all factions and fractions of the party have to give the local Great to Josef Stalin, call "democracy". However, in the current
New York campaign, A. D. A. endorsed Stanley M. Isaacs, a nominal Republican, who nevertheless nevertheless acted with 88 votes including 17 which have been branded subversive by the attorney general of the United States.

Typical names from the roster of national officers and members of the national board are Chester Bowles, who tasted totalitarian concoct as chief of the OPA and liked the flavor; Herbert H. Lehman; Frank P. Graham, Melvyn
Douglas, Leon Henderson, David
Dubinsky, and F. D. Roosevelt.
If they all tend toward the establishment of a Marx State and elimination of 48 states, I am likewise the flavor: Herbert H. Leh-
man; Frank P. Graham, Melvyn
Douglas, Leon Henderson, David
Dubinsky, and F. D. Roosevelt.

Although A. D. A. is frankly a parasite and a political solvent organized to cause the disintegration of the two big political parties and reduce our politics to continental European confusion, Humphrey nevertheless had the courtesy to say recently that "one of the traditional articles of our political faith has been our belief in the two-party system."

He argued for party responsibility in government, and, of course,
for a greater concentration of power in the national government. But Humphrey, himself, is a political chameleon or mongrel, a nominal Democrat who also runs on a Farmer-Labor ticket which catches
the communist vote. And A. D. A.'s candidate for mayor in New York,
a stooge named Newbold Morris,
is on three tickets: Republican, Liberal and Fusion. Not very long ago, young Moscoww II ran for congress in New York and was elected on the ticket of the Liberal party, which belongs to Dubinsky,
the leader of the Garment Workers' union, and an improvised ticket called the Four Freedoms party.
Young Roosevelt opposed and declined the regular Democratic candidate but was accepted into the Democratic fold in congress by Speaker Sam Rayburn, who nevertheless practically read out of the party several Southern Democrats who were elected on the party's ticket, but were accepted into the party instead of Truman.

It was Humphrey and his fellow conspirators who drove the Dixiecrats to their drastic and desperate course in 1948, by showing down the justly called civil rights program of Truman, thoroughly and the 81st congress absolutely refused to pass it. Now, Humphrey wants to drive the Southern Democrats out of their traditional seat in congress on the ground that,
because they don't consent to his concept of the Marx State with total power in Washington, they aren't Democrats at all.

The prospectus of a n kly says
A. D. A. is not become a part of any political party but will latch onto either big party opportunity as the candidates give promise of promoting its program of Marxian state socialism. It took a licking in some elections in Connecticut recently and there, again,
Democrats, especially Catholics of Irish descent, are quitting the party or preparing themselves for the politico-spiritual shock of quitting as a protest against the influx of pro-communist carpet-baggers brought into the industrial cities
by the Bowles roganization. Chester Bowles was elected governor by a tiny plurality in 1948 but he made millions in advertising before the election and he might better into politics and he might better later on. He is campaigning now to cut down the voting power of the small towns and farm areas in the Legislature and the A. D. A.'s official program promises a "gaduited state income tax."

The communist manifesto of Marx and Engels is the source of most of the A. D. A.'s basic proposals. In particular, it is unquestionably the source of the income tax proposal.

"The proletariat will use its political power to wrest by degrees
all capital from the bourgeoisie,"
they wrote. "This cannot be done except by despotic inroads on the rights of property. In the most advanced countries, the following will be pretty generally applicable."
"1.—Abolition of property in land and application of all rents of land to public purposes.
"2.—A heavy progressive or graduated income tax."
The confiscation of land, including homes, is approaching through more and more audacious local taxes, often on the pretext that the school system is decrepit and must be maintained by bond issues.
Only property-owners pay the interest and retire the principle of these bond issues so the renters and landless majority are indifferent.

It is noted that the A. D. A. lifts bodily from the communist manifesto the term "graduated income tax."

The most important lesson to be learned about A. D. A. at present is the fact of its parasitic purpose to suck the strength of the two parties and reduce them to scattered confusion. Humphrey's platitudes about the two-party system and the A. D. A.'s desire for big party responsibility are camouflage for the true purpose of creating here
the same chaos which developed in France. The A. D. A.'s New York branch is neither the Democratic nor the Republican party but Dubinsky's private party, the poli-

Bobcat Seconds Again Defeat Texarkana

For the second time in two weeks the stout Bobcat second team downed the Razorback Bees from Texarkana 12 to 6 in an interesting contest that drew 7 approximately 300 backers here last night.

It was rougher going for the Hope boys than in the first meeting of the two eleven which the Bobcats handily captured 18-0.
Henry Lile, who was the star of the first contest, put Hope ahead in the 12 yard sprint in the opening quarter and that's how the score stood until the final half.

It was late in the third period
when William Martin, on a quarterback sneak, went over from the 2 yard line to give the local a 12 point lead, Texarkana, unable to move on the ground the first half, started throwing passes in the final stanzas and in the fourth period a pass-lateral conducted for 30 yards and their only score.

Martin, Lile, Kennedy carried the offensive chores for Hope while Wiggins, Pharis and Williams were outstanding in the line. The Bees will entertain Magnolia at Ham-mons stadium, a team they licked 20-7 in their first meeting.

Leon Hart of Notre Dame Best Lineman

New York, Nov. 9 —(AP) — Big Leon Hart, Notre Dame's husky 240-pound end, is this week's lineman of the week.

Hart's work in the Michigan State game earned him the award
in the weekly Associated Press
poll.

Thus for the second straight week the award went to a player
from the Pittsburgh, Pa. area.
Hart is from Turtle Creek, Pa.
Last week the award went to Duke's Blaine Eason from Alor-ton, Pa.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame
coach, thinks so highly of his six-foot-four end, he would like to try him at fullback, carrying the ball. However, Hart is too good a blocker and end.

Besides he sometimes carries the ball on end-around plays and when he snares forward passes.
In one play of the Michigan State game Hart caught a pass. Two weeks ago he tried to stop himself, but both were knocked flat.

Hart's performance surpassed that of Jimmy Kynes, Florida center, who sparked his team to an upset triumph over Georgia.
Hart tackled Dick Johnson of Virginia and Jack Jennings of Ohio State, played major roles in their teams' victories over Pennsylvania and Pitt.

James "Froggie" Williams, Rice
center, and Rudy Bauman, Texas wingback, were outstanding performances in the Southwest.

This week's nominations also included:
Tackles—Wade Walker, Oklahoma, and Carl Ellis, Kansas.
Guards—Dave Hamner, Arkansas.

Mazzanti Doing Job for Porkers

Fayetteville, Nov. 9 —(AP) — University of Arkansas Fullback Gene Mazzanti is like the forest that couldn't be seen for the trees.
Razorback followers have been worrying so much about the injury keeping Leon (Muscles) Campbell on the sidelines they haven't paid much attention to the heavy credible job being done by his understudy, Mr. Mazzanti.

Mazzanti, rugged senior from Lake Village, has pulled even with Campbell in net yards gained rushing 384.

He has carried the ball 20 times more than Campbell, 64 — but also has done most of his line smashing against tougher opposition. He carried the burden of Arkansas' offense against Baylor, Vanderbilt, Texas A. & M. and Rice — games which Campbell missed altogether.

Campbell made more than half of his yardage in the season opener against North Texas State.

Mazzanti has averaged six yards per carry; Campbell 6.75. Those averages are unequalled in the Southwest conference, although the Porker battering Rams rank fifth in total yards. The four runners ahead of them have logged the leather 20 to 30 more times.

So it probably won't be a catastrophe for Arkansas if "Muscles" doesn't get back into action in Saturday SMU game. It'll just mean that Razorbacks will have one good fullback instead of two.

And apparently Mazzanti doesn't need much understudy. He has never missed a game because of an injury in his college career.

Rockefeller Center in New York

is an open air restaurant and in winter is a skating rink.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Nov. 9 —(AP)—Lou Little, who can explain almost everything, has his own explanation of the high scoring in football this season. . . It's simply that a coach, in picking his two platoons, puts the fastest and best co-ordinated men on the offense team. "If you make one little mistake against players like that, they're gone for a touchdown," Lou explains. . . Little has watched the best offensive efforts of a lot of good teams while they were running over his Columbia team this fall. . . From that viewpoint, his analysis of two of this week's top eastern games is this: Dartmouth vs. Cornell — should be pretty even; Army is stronger and has a better team than Penn, but that doesn't mean Army will win.

Out of Plat-Tune

When Washington and Lee was playing George Washington recently, the Generals (that's W&L) drove 80 yards downfield, only to lose the ball on a fumble near the goal line. . . Immediately Coach George Barclay sent his defensive unit racing onto the field while the offending offense gave a series of trudged off. . . An uninitiated spector behind the W & L bench then sang out: "That seems dawgoned unfair of the coach." The team marches all the way up the field with the ball and just because they make one little mistake, he takes them all out of the ball game."

Pigskin Pickings

Columbia vs. Navy
If victory is part of Columbia's fall, it will come to little much to late.

Oklahoma vs. Missouri
Oklahoma
And Darrell Royal
Will cause Missouri's
Blood to boil.

Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh
Pittsburgh's Panthers
Ain't got the answers.
California vs. Oregon
California will make a score
fore.

Wyoming vs. Baylor
Wyoming will find only hexes
Deep in the heart of Texas.

Shorts And Snells

Promoter Thomas Patrick Gorman of the "skating sensations"
is feuding with his star, Barbara Ann Scott, and her mother over a personal non-appearance in Edmonton, . . . Art Wall, the Duke University skater from Honesdale, Pa., who has made 28 holes-in-one, has decided to turn pro and will serve his six months probation period before going after the cash
in PGA tournaments. . .

Quote, Unquote

Branch Rickey: "Duke Spider is better than he was last spring and will be continuously better but he is not great yet. He's got a distance to go." But Stanton:
"You don't need 20 game pitchers to win, I've found out that you can win without them."

Rupp Believes Bradley Will Have Top Cage Team

Chicago, Nov. 9 —(AP)— Bradley university of Peoria, Ill., will be the nation's No. 1 basketball team
this season at least, predicts
Adolph Rupp, coach of Kentucky's
N. C. A. A. champions.

Rupp listed Bradley on top in a run down of his first five choices
at a Chicago Basketball Writers' association meeting last night.

He grouped the other four, not especially in order, as Bowling Green of Ohio, Tulane, Loyola of Chicago and San Francisco.

Bradley, with a 27-8 regular season record last campaign, lost to Bowling Green in a third place playoff in the metropolitan inviti-tional tournament in New York City.
Rupp said Bradley will have its team virtually intact.

"Kentucky is starting from scratch and will be green," he said. "But we'll make a good showing."

Antonelli to Manage Spa Baseball Team

Hot Springs, Nov. 9 —(UP)— Johnnie Antonelli, infielder the past two seasons for the Memphis Chicks in the Southern association, is the new manager of the Hot Springs Bathers in the Cotton States league.

The announcement was made
late yesterday by Milt Woodard,
business manager of the local club.
Antonelli served a major league
stint in 1944 and 1945 with the Philadelphia Phillies and the St. Louis Cardinals. He went to Baltimore in 1947 and from there joined the Memphis club. He batted .328 for the Chicks in 1948.

Antonelli's baseball career began at Memphis back in 1935. He went to Lexington, Ky., the following year as manager.

Labor Leader's Penalty Is Reduced

Little Rock, Nov. 7 — (P) — The Arkansas Supreme court today reduced the penalty of labor leader Joe Folsom for contempt of Washington county Chancery court.

The court held that the six-months jail sentence and $1,000 fine imposed on Folsom for violating an anti-picketing order was excessive.

It cut the jail sentence to 30 days and the fine to $500.

Associate Justice Robert A. Leffler dissented from the majority opinion, written by Associate Justice George Rose Smith.

Leffler said he felt the punishment fixed by the high court still is excessive.

"It does not appear," he said,

Pole Court Sentences 2 Wartime Nazis

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 8 — (P) — A Polish appeal court sentenced two wartime Nazi officials to death yesterday after finding them guilty of murdering thousands of Poles and Jews during the German occupation of Poland.

The two sentenced were former SS Commander Richard Hildebrandt and the former German police chief at Bydgoszcz.

The verdict said the accused had aimed at the total extermination of the Poles.

that the defendant personally acted in bad faith. He participated in peaceful picketing, but he knew that peaceful picketing was lawful unless it was enjoined by valid order of the court. It does not appear that x x x he knew a consent injunction against such picketing had been issued x x x.

Last June the Supreme court affirmed less severe contempt of court sentences against six other persons for violating the same anti-picketing injunction which led later to the judgment against Folsom.

The men were members of Local 107 of the International Hod Carriers' union (AFL) picketing a Building and Connon Laborers' union (AFL) picketing a warehouse construction job at Fayetteville. Folsom is the local's secretary and business agent.

The Supreme court said today that the other six men acted on Folsom's advice when they resumed picketing of the job in violation of consent order which had been issued by the late Chancellor John K. But.
